If I am in that situation, according to Rule Utilitarianism, I will not kill Bob to save my best friend. Rule Utilitarianism is one of Utilitarianism.

Rule Utilitarianism is a form of utilitarianism that says an action is right as it conforms to a rule that leads to the greatest good, or that "the rightness or wrongness of a particular action is a function of the correctness of the rule of which it is an instance. In that situation, we set "kill people" as the rule. This rule is good for everyone, and nobody will be killed.

But for rule Utilitarianism, we must follow that rule, and never break it, although sometimes following this rule will get negative things for people. In that case, according to the rule, I would not kill Bob to save my best friend. Whatever Bob is brain dead or how close with my best friend.

If I did that, then I break that rule, although my friend will be reborn and nobody will blame me. That decision is against rule Utilitarianism, so this is incorrect. About rule Utilitarianism and act Utilitarianism, these two are opposite. We chose lie to be an example to prove rule Utilitarianism. Firstly, it is an immoral act.

Although sometimes lying will give you direct benefit, but also it corrupts the moral principle of the whole society. This is harmful much more than that direct benefit. Also, rule utilitarianism is not unilateralism. This fall will happen on two solutions. One of these is when breaking a rule that benefits is bigger than the harm, that means act unilateralism is correct.

Other one is to prove sanitation that just mentioned, to resort direct consequence. That is as same as act Utilitarianism. So this theory is not perfect, also has weak. Also mean, expect god, nothing is perfect.
