ASSIGN
BUSTER

Write an assignment that explains strategies used in health and social care environments to overcome barriers to effective communication and interpersonal interactions. M2 Using the grid provided by the teacher review strategies used in health and social care environments to overcome barriers to effective communication and interpersonal interactions. D1 Write an evaluation of the strategies used in health and social care environments to overcome barriers to effective communication and interpersonal interactions.

Your work must be referenced using the Harvard system Guidance

P4 Write an essay to explain at least five different strategies that are used to overcome some of the communication problems that service users may encounter on a day to day basis. M2 Using the suggested grid provided- go onto review eight strategies in detail. Consider the strengths and weaknesses of your suggestions and ensure that you include the use of alternative methods of communication; both human and technological. D1 To achieve this grade the learners must evaluate the strategies used to overcome barriers to communication. An evaluation requires both a judgement to be made e. g. whether something is or is not effective in overcoming barriers and a justification of how this judgement has been reached. Make use of relevant published resources.
