The state of the art infrastructure, the educational courses and the varied choices, the professional faculty and the modern high tech networks are some of the very enticing features that I aim to touch upon while thinking of Ohio State University as my future destination. I want to be known amongst the best and this is the reason I am applying for a place in this coveted university. I do not want to miss a chance being a part of the Ohio State University's clan.

I would be grateful to the authorities who are at the helm of affairs to allow me a chance to be a functional part of the Ohio State University and thus make me a very distinguished professional in the coming times. I am sure that the education which will be instilled in me through Ohio State University would put me at a better ground than many others who are already seeking university admissions worldwide. I remain hopeful that if given the chance, I will display the best of skills and prove my worth in an able manner.
