Education

Running head: ppp lesson plan 20th August Can and Can't Lead in In group activity where the student will play a ball in a circle, the teacher will go around the circle making sure that the students make sentences using can and can't for example. I can throw the ball to Alice, but I can't throw the ball to the teacher. For the elementary learners to speak a language with a high degree of proficiency there is need for grammar lesson (Jeremy, 1998). After testing or brainstorming, it is important to teach what they have forgotten for example writing the correct can and can't sentence. John can fly and Jane can't walk fast among others. For elementary learners' verbs like

Play

Throw

Walk

These verbs are going to be illustrated in practical manner in group activity

Steps during lesson plan

Presentation

The stages involved are presentation, practice and production. In the presentation stage, the objective or the aim of the lesson must be explained in a broader manner. This means that the teacher will explain to the learner what they will learn and the reason behind it. The meaning of verbs like throw, walk, play among others will be provided and pronunciation and form explained well.

Practice

The practice stage will help the learners to use the new language that has been introduced, which is the goal. This stage must be done practically so that the learners can have the ability to practice and understand it (Penny, 1988). Using gap filing the student may be given a sentence like Jane throws the ball but Stephen throw the ball.

Production

Production stage motivates the learners to communicate well with their colleagues and have the opportunity to experiment the new language (Peter, 1995). I can sing but I can't pray, I can walk but I can't run.
