In general human being urge to know someone suffering in worst condition. We are very much interested on outside world like what they are wearing, saying and suffering. Technology has the crucial role to circulate such incidents through Internet and TV channels. People immediately takes photograph when they saw car accident on the road instead of call for help. Just like in black mirror, people were advised not to watch the live telecast of prime minister, but everyone watches the video. Kidnapper wants to humiliate the prime minister in public instead of demanding money.

Although most of the people say 'I would not wish that on my enemy', they thought relief that they are not on the place who is suffering. Some people passing a nasty comment and some of them make fun of it. As we live in the society, we should not give priority on such kind of incident, because no one want to be humiliated in the public. As a individual we should ignore it before get viral and people have to be aware of the fact, that the humiliation forced someone to destroy their personal life.
