Plastic surgery is an operation that allows a person's image change into a new and pretty appearance. Nowadays, plastic surgery has been a growing fascination for many Asian countries, including Malaysia. Most Malaysian opt to pursue plastic surgery although some of them have good looking figure. In my opinion, is a good idea for someone to change their appearance through plastic surgery. Firstly, people who have plastic surgery can build confidence and increase their self-esteem. For instance, people feel comfortable in social immunity and communicate with others.

Furthermore, it is easier for them to get particular job. Therefore, it may carry out successful career in their. Secondly, plastic surgeries will improve health conditions. For example, there are many women suffer from chronic back pain solved by breast reduction. Moreover, physical defects and injuries due to accidents, genetics and diseases also solved by plastic surgery. Some people argue that plastic surgery carries with certain risk, The most common mistake people is choosing a wrong doctor who has no experience and without certification may put their health into risk.

However, with rapid development of technology, plastic surgery technique has become more effective and reliable. The majority of people still have faith in plastic surgery and change their lives. People can improve their living condition and help or reshape their appearance in future. In conclusion, strongly agree to someone change their appearance through plastic surgery because plastic surgery builds confidence or increase self-esteem and improve health condition.
