Not a particle of dust to be seen, not an ounce of stagnant water and accumulated dirt, let us say it is non-existent. But when we travel to places far away, go for a camp or in general do something that requires us to stay from our homes, in that case, how do we manage our hygiene? The truth is we do not.

Partially due to lack of products that can help us lead a hygienic life while away from home and rest due to a dearth of the brands that create such products. But if you are a hygiene fanatic and looking for skin care, health care and hygiene solution that can give you the much-needed protection at the away from home settings, you can always reach out for GOJO's products. The brand has been manufacturing the best in business products to promote health, well-being and hygiene for almost seventy years now. The brand has lately harnessed the power of the brand Purell to manufacture the ideal combination of powerful germ-killing formula and safety products for both people and the environment. As one of the handful brands that are trusted in millions of homes for their hand hygiene solutions, the brand has now a huge portfolio of skin health solutions, including various hand cleansers, heavy duty soaps, wipes and mild soaps etcetera.

For those people who go an extra mile with hand's skin health and beauty, there are a lot of products manufactured by the brand that helps them achieve them both. One of such products is Enriched Lotion Soap. This product keeps your squeaky clean while not stripping off any extra ounce of
