

12 angry men

ASSIGN BUSTER

Who is the author of 12 Angry Men? Reginald Rose. What is the setting of the play? A large, bare, drab jury room of the New York Court of Law on a very hot summer afternoon in 1957. What are the charges against the defendant? Premeditated homicide in the first degree. What is the punishment facing the defendant? Death by electrocution. Which juror is a football coach at Andrew J. McCorkle High School in Queens, and changes his vote in the fifth vote? The foreman. Which juror offers cough drops, works at a bank, has a son with the mumps and changes his vote in the fourth vote? The 2nd juror. Which juror runs a messenger service, has a son, who he fought with and hasn't seen in two years, plays tic-tac-toe with the 12th juror, tells the 8th juror he is going to kill him, and is the last to change his vote? The 3rd juror. Which juror is a broker, had recently attended the movies, and wears glasses? The 4th juror. Which juror is a Milwaukee fan, has lived in a slum his whole life, is the third juror to change his vote, and figures that the old man took longer than he stated to reach the door? The 5th juror. Which juror is a painter, and changes his vote in the fourth vote? The 6th juror. Which juror has tickets to a baseball game, is a salesman, and changes his vote to "get it over with"? The 7th juror. Which juror votes not guilty from the first vote, has two children, goes out and buys a switch blade exactly the same as the one used in the murder, and is an architect? The 8th juror. Which juror is an old man, changes his vote in the second vote, and notices many insignificant details about the old male witness? The 9th juror. Which juror has a hot weather cold, but changes his vote so that "you smart bastards can do whatever you want"? The 10th juror. Which juror has a German accent, is a watchmaker, and is the fourth juror to change his vote? The 11th juror. Which juror works at an ad agency, plays tic-tac-toe with the third juror, and changes his vote in the fifth vote, but then
