ASSIGN
BUSTER

Resume summary Resume summary I am Cheng Qian, born and brought up in China with a great passion in the technology world. My educational background tells it all for I have a bachelor degree of engineering where I majored in the Information Security. That was in Sichuan University at Chengdu, China in July, 2012. Currently, am doing my Masters of Science in Information Systems & Operations Management (ISOM) in the University of Florida (USA), which I will be through in May, 2015.

Experience being the best teacher I have had it in an academic research which took four months in 2012 between February and May. The research involved the realization of image encryption based on Chaos System where I applied C++ programming and the logistics map of Chaos system to realize image encryption. I also made an analysis of chaotic image encryption. The research also opened me up to note the advantages of chaos system in the speed of image encryption.

In 2011, between the month of March and May I was an intern in Hwadee IT Corporation. The experience in the Corporation was an eye opener as I learnt the security of basic communication platform. During the internship, I did various activities such as maintaining the network environment, establishing a secure Network Operating System (NOS), encryption, certification and network defense. In addition, I went for another internship for three months at Anhui Provincial Hospital as from July I the same year. This gave me a chance to correct the system bug and customers' needs during the commissioning and later communicated with the R&D department and assisted them to upgrade related models. I also communicated with customers who get to use the system to increase our work efficiency. Finally, I was involved in the testing of the system's function at each stage, ensuring to meet customers' needs to their satisfactory.

I have obtained various skills from my academics and the interns. One is in the Software Engineering which involves assembling language and Microsoft Visual Studio. The other skills I learnt are in Microsoft Applications and Operating systems.
