The Role of Senior High School in Globalization Globalization affects from the evacuation of boundary, the middle of national economies to convince that stream about goods, services, capital and work. The expanding relation in global education on connection to worldwide training for the relationship for the world's society will be globalization. The three subtopics which are the employment, development and social consciousness are important in indicating the role of senior high school in globalization. The Rationalization Plan that the Department of Education implemented is also a way to provide the employee's right placement in facing their duties to improve the standard and importance of education services and properly provide the needs of the students, teachers and the school. This change may affect people, but there's one thing that will be assure; it will also improve the standard of services for the community. The result-based Performance System (RPMS) is another breakthrough in the government services.

The RPMS is an accommodation of the Civil Service Commission's (CSC) Strategic Performance System. The employee's performance will be evaluated based on how was the Individual Commitment performed, which is also related to the functions shown in the RAT structure. All of these amend are related with the DepEd's vision, mission and core values. With these changes in their workplace, they continue to steadfast in their hope that the country will have competent caretakers, which are the learners.

The African proverb, "It takes a village to educate a child" is a well known proverb that most of the people heard.

This mantra mostly used by inspirational speakers in encouraging everyone to give importance in education and use it as a powerful weapon in changing the world. Everyone have different role in educating a child. In a developing nation, education is the key to keep adhere with the challenges of globalization. The process of globalization had tremendous changes that may bring either opportunity or threat to the humanity.

This is a challenge for the education sector so that these changes will be turn into opportunities for the learners to be competent and productive citizens in the future. Today's generation encountered with so many challenges of globalization. The world will be different few years from now. How will the children respond to such changes? How will everyone prepare for this?

Everyone needs to give them the best quality education they need. Everyone should transform the educational system into an excellent structure that is relevant to global changes. Everyone needed leaders who are empowered in making difference in the system of education. Those leaders ready to make changes.

Demonstrating compassion and empathy can be away in getting closer to others and more tightening the social securities. Being sensitive to others when they are hurt and understanding their position is really essential to actuate the social responsibility. Courtesy and responsiveness are also needed. It is also important for each people, who wanted to develop socio-political consciousness, to be willing in listening to others and ask for feedback regarding his behavior. It should be in mind that the gap between what is social and what is personal should never be disobeyed as it is one of the basic requirements of consciousness.

In conclusion, the employment, development and social consciousness are three important things that will help to convince everyone why the senior high is good in globalization. The role of the senior high is very helpful in interconnecting with other countries around the globe. The system of having a higher education in a country will help to build a great relationship in businesses; employment, socialization and having unity in the world.
