

From field of accounting and finance. my dream

Business, Accounting

From the beginning when I was in school I like math's so much that I always try to find excuses to do math instead of any other subject. My this interest is keep getting increased with the passage of time and after finishing my high school, I took admission in the commerce field because my plan was to become a professional accountant in my life. When I was about to finish commerce my parents wants me to study abroad, so I came here (in Ireland) to do my higher studies in the field of accounting and finance. My dream job is to become a professional accountant but before that I really want to get trained as a trainee accountant because I want to practice every single thing before I get into the field. The reason is, in this kind of job you can't take a risk you need to be aware of what you are doing and for that you need to have some kind of qualities and skills that are required in this field. The responsibility of professional accountant is to provide financial information to the management by researching and analyzing accounting data. While, the duties are as following;

- v Prepares different type of account entries by compiling and analyzing information.
- v Create a document of financial transactions by adding account information.

- v To give an idea for any financial investment by analyzing all the accounting records.
- v Present the financial status of a firm by preparing; Statement of Financial Position (SOFP) and Statement of Profit and Loss (SOPL).
- v Provide evidence of financial transaction by auditing.
- v Recommend policies and procedures to keep accounting cycle maintained.
- v Giving answers to the questions been asked by the directors and colleagues of a company.

- v v Reconciles financial discrepancies by collecting and analyzing account information.
- v Keep the all the financial information the a company secured by creating the backup of all the provided information. Have to keep all the financial history of the company secured. v v Prepares payments by verifying documentation, and requesting disbursements. v

Answers accounting procedure questions by researching and interpreting accounting policy and regulations. v Complies with federal, state, and local financial legal requirements by studying existing and new legislation, enforcing adherence to requirements, and advising management on needed actions. v Prepares special financial reports by collecting, analyzing, and summarizing account information and trends. v Maintains customer confidence and protects operations by keeping financial information confidential. v Maintains professional and technical knowledge by attending educational workshops; reviewing professional publications; establishing personal networks; participating in professional societies.

v Accomplishes the result by performing the duty. v Contributes to team effort by accomplishing related results as needed. There are lots of accounting skills that are required to become an accountant but there are few of them are analytical, communication, Detail oriented, information technology, organizational, time management and last but not the least problem solving. Analytical The main role of accountant is to read, compare, understand and interpret figures and data.

Being able to analyze numbers and figures in the document is a major skill in the accountant field. Communication In the field of accountant they have to explain and convert every single numeric figure into a report so that all the directors and other department of the company can easily understand about the figures which are present in the statement of financial position (SOFP). Therefore, their written and oral communication must be strong and clear. Detail Oriented As we all know that accounting is just about paying attention on every single thing either it is big or small.

That's why all the professional accountant uses all the data as mentioned in the report and this requires a great attention to every single detail.

Information Technology Nowadays it is important for accountants to have good skills in the information technology (IT), i. e. computer programs and software's (QuickBooks, Word, Excel etc). With the help of these IT skills you will be able to compete in the various job sectors of accounting field.

Organizational In the field of accountant you will have to be very well organized as accounting is all about numbers and date, you should be careful with the dates and should keep all the records well organized according to the previous date, as in bookkeeping you have to keep all the records with the sequence as it can create confusions in the future.

Time Management This is the skill that is required in every field but for the accountants it is one of the main skills that they need to pursue their daily tasks as it is very hard for accountants to manage time because they have to read all the details very carefully before they start presenting it because one little mistake will waste all the time they have spent and will make them to read the whole question once again.

So it is very important to read the question carefully and manage their time according to the task they have given. Problem Solving As accountants are usually problem solving because their job is to solve the problems of the firm they are working for by explaining them the SOFP. This gave a company an idea about the available funds they have, so that they can plan the future investment. This is the most important skill that an accountant requires to become an accountant.

After finishing my degree I would like to work for CrowleysDFK as it is one of the leading chartered accounting firms in Ireland which was founded in 1975. This is an international firm currently working in 92 different countries. To start my career in this sector I will definitely have to finish my accountancy degree and start working there as a trainee accountant and in-between this I will start my Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA). This will help me to get the training of an accountant by working with a professional accountant who can help me in improving my mistakes before I start my professional career after my ACCA. The skills that are required in this sector are the same as I mentioned above but after meeting with few of the employees in the same firm, from my perspective, I think I will include few more skills that are required for working in this firm which are <https://hiring.monster.com/hr/hr-best-practices/recruiting-hiring-advice/job-descriptions/accountant-general-job-description-sample.aspx>
