

Gun and violence essay examples

Business, Customers

The article "Guns and Violence" is based on the second amendment in the American constitution which states that "Keeping weapons for self defense is a right of citizens" (Laine et. al, 2013). It is a debatable topic that whether general public should stay armed and have any kind of weapon or not. Most of the people argue that it is not a solution to distribute weapons to the general people since it might get difficult to maintain peace in the society. In fact it was suggested that the government has to take some measures to diminish arms from every city of the state but now it will be against the amendment in the regulation (Swanson et. al, 2013).

Some researchers argue that, increasing guns will decrease violence but it is not possible because it is dangerous for common people (Mozaffarian et. al, 2013). The person who carries a weapon for security can use it for negative purpose also and people who cannot purchase a weapon will feel inferior in front of other people (Rivara et. al, 2013). An issue related to proper training of people also arises as citizens who want to purchase weapons should be able to use it accordingly. The common use of weapons can make the environment unpeaceful for common people, since they also have the right to live in this state without violence (Brent et. al, 2013).

This amendment make the process of taking guns easy and every solitary can apply for the license of gun. Here the point which comes out in mind is that, a normal person has to pass some exams or going through a proper process but criminals can produce weapons from any illegal manner (Leptich et. al, 2013). According to researchers, this condition will increase violence in the city and anyone can die form an unknown bullet coming from an unidentified place (Fisher et. al, 2013). This will make the procedure of investigation more complicated because police cannot investigate every citizen carrying a weapon.

References

- Brent, D. A., Miller, M. J., Loeber, R., Mulvey, E. P., & Birmaher, B. (2013). Ending the silence on gun violence. Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, 52(4), 333-338.
- Fisher, C. E., & Lieberman, J. A. (2013). Getting the facts straight about gun violence and mental illness: putting compassion before fear. Annals of internal medicine
- Graziano, M., & Pulcini, J. (2013). Gun violence and the role of health care: a confusing state of affairs. The American journal of nursing, 113(9), 23.
- Hemenway, D., & Miller, M. (2013). Public Health Approach to the Prevention of Gun Violence. New England Journal of Medicine, 368(21), 2033-2035.
- Laine, C., Taichman, D. B., Mulrow, C., Berkwits, M., Cotton, D., & Williams, S. V. (2013). A new year's resolution for physicians: time to focus on the public health threat of gun violence. Annals of internal medicine.
- Lane, A. M. (2013). Mass Shootings and Gun Control: Obama's Road to Reform.
- Leptich, R., Priebe, A., Singh, S., Bruce, S., Chen, S., Gary, L., & Redd, A. (2013). AVERTING THE PREVELANCE AND CONSEQUENCES OF MASS SHOOTING AND URBAN GUN VIOLENCE.
- Mozaffarian, D., Hemenway, D., & Ludwig, D. S. (2013). Curbing Gun Violence Lessons From Public Health Successes Curbing Gun Violence. JAMA, 309(6), 551-552.
- Rivara, F. P., Sattin, R., Gielen, A., & Houry, D. (2013). The role of research in addressing the public health problem of gun violence. Injury Prevention, 19(3), 224-224.

Swanson, J. W., Robertson, A. G., & Frisman, L. K. (2013). Preventing gun violence involving people with serious mental illness. Reducing Gun Violence in America: Informing Policy with Evidence and Analysis, 33.