Earning money through internet is rocking now a days. People truly quit their jobs and business and earn money through internet in various ways like by doing work online for other persons and then being paid by them or like the ones which are making videos on YouTube, daily motion and other websites.

Getting online Work

We can hire online peoples to do work which are great in sense that these are beneficial for both of them. If the person which is paying for work is busy and cannot do the work in time then he can manage to hire a person to do his work and on the other hand if that person is free and need some money then he can earn it doing his work. Internet is helpful in this way and also very strong dealing are done on it.

Disadvantages

Quality of products

With the advantages of internet there also exists some disadvantages which has the range from very little to extreme harm. Let's take a view to a disadvantage of shopping through internet. Because you cannot see it and what it actually looks physically so you can easily be fraud on quality of products. It is also common now a days that what you order is completely different in quality than what you actually ordered. So you would get disappointed.

Loss of Studies

Mostly students use the net for wrong purposes. Which are the cause of loss and big disadvantage for student's studies. Because they spend more time while using online activates.

Distraction for students

Most of the students use ne for educational reasons in start but they don't get when they are addicted to it an even after their work for education is complete they waist there time on other things like gaming or movies etc. and other online activities like chatting and social networking which completely destroys a students' life. They even come to this point that if they try to study with the help of internet they can't because gaming and other things are in their mind whenever they use internet.

Loss of Money

In advantages we discussed about games which we can play online.

Everything in excess is harmful and so it be. Because we are addicted to it so we can even allow us to pay for them to enjoy it. Gaming websites fixed prices for different games and then they earn from their users. Actually it is the complete loss of money so internet also caused you some bad habits of wasting money.

Health problems

In past everyone is doing physical work and there was no concept of internet or anything related to it like mobile computer so we had seen the previous people are more healthy and strong. In this era most of the people just remain at their homes and busy doing something through internet even they don't bother to go out and to have a look at nature and do some physical exercise and in result they destroy their immunity and get ill with a little bit of harm and disease. Viruses There are viruses that can attack the files present in our computer and corrupt our files. They came through breaches and internet is the biggest breach for them. When you are browsing some files automatically download and install themselves automatically. Some of them are viruses and these viruses can harm your computer software or any program. Hacking The trend of using accounts online is now its peak. Most of people use it and so there also exists some bad people which definitely try to get this money. For this, hackers are in every country which can hack your bank account and can access to your money and can transfer it anywhere they want. Let us suppose we lost our mobile and internet banking facility is present in it so a person can easily transfer your money or can play with it.

Access to your personal data

With the list of disadvantages of internet there are also data stolen chances. If your computer or program is connected through internet then it can easily be hacked and your personal data is not safe. There are some business deals which are personal so it can harm your business also and in short you. It also exists on bigger levels where different countries steal each other data.

Frauds

Frauds are common on internet. There are a lot of websites and people on internet that are not real and not trusted. They hide their identity and if you believe them then they cause you a trouble it also includes fraud with your money and business deals.

Dark web

Dark web is a big and a very bad part of internet. We just know about some limited websites and a common man can just access a limited number of websites in comparison to what actually there are. According to an estimate we can just use only 5% of websites. Other 95% websites are blocked for us and we cannot access it. On dark web people sell drugs, arms, hire killers and do a lot of illegal activities so we should be careful and should keep ourselves away from these type of websites and activities.

Governments Files and Data

Countries which have some spicy things going between them hire some special hackers to hack important files and things and secret files of government. These hackers crack codes of files and get access in private important documents. These files may be related to drone designs, arms modules and many other private things for a country is not safe because of internet.

Wrong news

There is a lot of wrong news circulating through internet to get the viewers' attention. Websites give the wrong news which may be suspenseful to get views and likes so they get populated. It is now in fact a business to give fake news because greater the views result in bigger earning so we should try to avoid it by selecting some trustworthy channels. Distant from family We all have a family which we love. Internet addicts its viewer and in fact the person starting getting distant from family when he involves in gaming, social networking as someone has said rightly in past and it comes out to be true that one day technology will surpass the human interaction. Now people are getting far form family, parents, brother, sisters and friends.

Wasting Time

As the trend of internet is at its peak so people get addicted to it and unknowingly waste a lot more time than what they actually used it to use it beneficially but nowadays people are becoming dull and weak facing many diseases and destroying their lives because they don't care about time.

Does we need internet? Yes, of course but does we actually need it that much we use? The answer is no. We waist a lot of data in downloading movies and streaming and gaming especially online games and that's why we use a far more data than what we actually need. To use this much data we have to increase our limited data by paying more amount of money so in short we actually is wasting money also.
