Email Address

I would like to support Gytautas's application to the Master's program at XXX University. I believe he will be a valuable addition to the class and prove to be an excellent candidate for the Master's program. Gytautas was employed with Vaistine Esra Ltd. from XX to XX and I have known him since 2010.

Gytautas possess many qualities that give him an edge over his colleagues. He possesses great leadership skills coupled with an ability to find innovative business solutions. He has willingness to make a difference. His efforts resulted in our company starting to donate medicines to hospitals and providing training to doctors. He motivated us to engage in several corporate social responsibility initiatives which also helped us increase sales by improving relationships with managers and doctors at the hospitals. It also resulted in an increased demand of our product. Most importantly, it enabled us to become one of the biggest donators in pharmacy sector in Lithuania. We improved hospital services through doctors' training and provided pharmacies those in need but could not afford it. This was one of the most interesting business solutions I have ever come across. This initiative by Gytautas deeply impressed me and showcased his excellent leadership and team work skills.

He is passionate about finance and professional excellence which enabled him to excel at his job responsibilities such as monitoring business environment and providing reports on business performance. He made significant contribution to the expansion of our company through his analytical skills. During his tenure at the evaluation of an investment project, he performed detail analysis on various scenarios of discounted cash flows to see the real economic profit of the acquisition. This is just one of the examples of how he performed as a full-fledged financial manager, carrying out complex tasks and responsibilities, despite the fact that he is still completing his undergraduate coursework to graduate shortly.

He developed a multi facet perception of international corporate community during his professional, academic and leisure activities. It came in handy for us during frequent price and conditions negotiations with the world's largest pharmacy manufacturers. Gytautas is intelligent and has exceptional diplomatic skills that enable him to connect and communicate effectively with high profile clients. His knowledge on the subject and excellent command on English language allows him to carry out negotiations skilfully. I have been impressed with his strong attention to detail, analytical abilities and commitment to prepare well and participate fully in team projects and leadership initiatives. His performance at our company has been very impressive and demonstrated his ability to get to the heart of an issue and provide insightful analysis and recommendations. He is supportive and encouraging, while demanding the same high quality participation from his team members as he exhibits his own contributions to the class. His project reports showed his perseverance and tenacity and he always exhibited a thirst for knowledge.

I strongly believe that he will be an excellent candidate for the Master's program at XXX University. Please feel free to get in touch with me at if you need any further information in support of Gytautas's application. Good luck in your selection process

Sincerely,

Regina Jodkiene
