Personal Vision of Ministry Statement “

Creative, loving, and inspired ministry that loosens the burdens of religion, and leads people to a lifetime, obedient relationship with our Lord Jesus Christ.” Each word in that vision statement is very significant to me and describes my spiritual being to this point. Creativity is important to me, not just because advertising or me being a bit imaginative, but because from the beginning, our God was a creative God; I don’t believe there is any room for becoming stagnant in Christianity.

Love is the central theme of the Bible, and it is the most important of the Great Commandment’s. It is only through daily submission that inspiration will come, and it is only through inspiration and testimony that I find the strength to carry out God’s work. There are two “ R” words that are distinctive when sharing ministry: Religion and Relationship. They are not the same. Religion: being the belief in and worship of a personal God or Gods Details of belief as taught or discussed.

Relationship: the way in which two or more concepts, objects, or people are connected, or the state of being connected. Example being Jesus Christ connected as our personal Lord and Savior. So this would be my personal ministry of how I am to share Christ Jesus Love. To be able to teach, and lead others to Christ through scripture. As a church youth minister, I should be one that is connected with today’s youth. A youth minister should lead children, not only in their spiritual growth but their personal development as well.

A youth minister needs to possess great leadership qualities and have plenty of experience and testimony in order to share with the children. I must be able to train and encourage others within the church. I will be discipline, self-motivated, organized, and spiritually mature. This is why I believe AME will help me further God's ministry, and gain more knowledge of who God is. Scripture says a lot about knowledge throughout the Bible. One of my favorite verses explaining God's sovereign knowledge is in Proverbs.

Proverbs 3: 1-35: My son, do not forget my teaching, but let your heart keep my commandments, for length of days and years of life and peace they will add to you. Let not steadfast love and faithfulness forsake you; bind them around your neck; write them on the tablet of your heart. So you will find favor and good success in the sight of God and man. Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. May God use me to accomplish His purposes.
