Kippins blankets bring comfort to your kid
The first thing a newborn feels is her mother's touch, followed by the blanket in which she is swaddled. It should be the coziest piece of cloth which reproduces the mother's touch to provide your baby the comfort she needs.

Also, because your little one's skin is too sensitive, the blankets should be super-soft and non-toxic. Remember, swaddling also benefits a new parent as it helps your newborn sleep well, helping you to stay calm and stable. This brand has addressed this requirement and come up with a range of baby lifestyle products which ensures that your baby can cuddle up in the purest of fabrics with a lot of comfort. They were finalists in the Gold Coast Young Entrepreneur of the Year Awards in Australia. To add to the soothing feel, they do not use any buttons or unnecessary embroidery, tags, loops, or other attachments. The cotton used helps to regulate temperature and reduces risk of overheating and sweating. The squashy head on top is the best toy for your kid.

The size of the blankets is accurate - not too small and not too large. At the corners, there are soft knots which work as great teethingers for your kid. You can buy Kippins online - the products come in high-contrast prints which attract kids and keep them engaged. The best part of all is that these are machine washable - just chuck them in the washing machine with cold water and you're done. Products available online
Kippins Comforter River is prepared using organic cotton and is their bestselling product. It includes a black-and-white feather print baby security blanket and a soft grey rabbit
