(VI)IMPORTANT HIGHLIGHTS OF INDIAN TOURISM • The number of Foreign Tourist Arrivals (FTAs) in India during 2009 declined to 5.

11 million as compared to 5. 28 million in 2008. The growth rate in FTAs during 2009 over 2008 was (-) 3. 3% as compared to 4% increase during 2008 over 2007. The lower growth rate in 2009 may be due to global financial meltdown, terrorist activities, etc. However, the negative growth rate in India in 2009 was less than the negative growth rate of 4.

2% observed for the world as a whole. The share of India in international tourist arrivals in 2009 increased to 0. 8% as compared to 0. 57% in 2008. However, India's rank remained 41st.

India accounted for 2.81 % of tourist arrivals in Asia and the Pacific Region in 2009, with the rank of 11. About 89.8% of the FTAs entered India through the air route. Delhi and Mumbai airports accounted for about 54.

5% of the total FTAs in India. The top 10 source markets for FTAs in India in 2009 were USA, UK, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Canada, France, Germany, Australia, Malaysia and Japan. These 10 countries accounted for about 64.0 % of total FTAs in India in 2009. Tourism continues to play an important role as a foreign exchange earner for the country. In 2009, foreign exchange earnings (FEE) from tourism were US$ 11.

39 billion as compared to US$ 11.75 billion in 2008, registering a negative growth of 3.0%. Number of domestic tourist visits in India during 2009 was 650.04 million as compared to 562.

98 million in 2008, with a growth rate of 15.5 %. Number of Indian national departures from India during 2009 was 11.07 million as compared to 10.87 million in 2008, registering a growth rate of 1. %.

Weather conditions at different tourist destinations are one of the important determinants of tourist arrivals. In the past, seasonal variations have been observed in FTAs in India. Table 2. 3. 1 gives the month-wise FTAs in India during 2009 as well as comparative figures for 2008 and 2007. It may be seen from Table 2. 3. 1 that during the year 2009, December has been the peak month for FTAs in India followed by February and November. May has been the leanest month. The share of November and December in 2009 has increased as compared to 2008. Month-wise breakup of FTAs in 2009 influenced by the global financial meltdown, terrorist activities, H1N1 epidemic, etc. FTAs in India in 2009 decreased from January- May and August- November decreased while it increased in the month of June, July and December 2009. Because of the abnormal circumstances for tourism in 2009, the month-wise break-up of FTAs may be interpreted cautiously.

Of the total FTAs in India in 2009, sex distribution was available for all. These comprised 59. 6% males and 40. 4% females. Out of the reported figures, the male-female break-up of FTAs in 2008 was 60. % and 39. 4% respectively.

INDIA TOURISM STATISTICS 2009 27 Table 2. 6. 1 gives the gender-wise distribution of FTAs in India during 1996-2009. Percentage of arrivals not reporting their gender was quite high in 2001 and 2002 but it has been gradually decreasing from 2005 and during 2009 it was nil. TABLE 2. 6.

are given in Table 2. 6. 2. While the proportion of female for most of the countries is in the range of 30% to 45%, for some countries like Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Yemen Arab Republic, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, China (Main), Japan, etc, it was substantially low (less than 30%) in 2009. On the other hand, females outnumbered the males in FTAs in India from Kazakhstan (57. 9%), Mauritius (55. 3 %) and Russia (53. 5 %) during 2009.

It may be seen from this table that the proportion of FTAs in different age groups has not changed much in the last 7 years. However, the proportion of FTAs aged 55 or above has increased from 11. 5% in 1996 to about 23. 2 % in 2009. As the proportion of FTAs not reporting their ages has varied over the years, therefore comparison of agedistribution of FTAs needs to be done with caution. In 2009, maximum FTAs in India (20. 3 %) were from 35-44 years age group, followed by the age groups of 45-54 years (19. 6%), 25-34 years (17. 9 %). Minimum were in the agegroup of 65 & above years (8. 5%). 17. 9 9. 1 20. 3 19. 6 14. 7 7. 9 8.

that the proportion of FTAs in the age-group 014 years was the highest for
