Proposal Argument: Cyber Bullying

Today, the modern world is being dependent on the Internet and technologies. The world that once could not imagine the possibility to talk to a person in a different country sitting at home.

Since the development of the technology, people from all over the world can text, call, and they can see a person and communicate if they are talking face to face. Also, the Technology has increased in so many ways that today, from cell phones to laptop, iPad, and social network, and it can be used wirelessly. However, these developmental opportunities and possibility affected many adults and teens' life like cyber bullying. The main causes of the cyber bullying are that race, religion, jealousy, and comparing with others. Presently, cyberbullying is an increasing and dangerous problem to society, so it should be stopped or prevented from the society. Some of the possible solutions to prevent cyberbullying is that institute fines for offenders, increase parental involvement, and order that social networking sites introduce bullying buttons.

According to 2016 report from the "Cyberbullying Research Center" shows that 33.8% of students between 12 and 17 were victims of cyberbullying in their lifetime. Being victim of cyber bullying causes injuries, fear, shame, tapering confidence, and discouragement in the casualty. Studies have demonstrated that bullying happens on the play area as frequently as at regular intervals. In the classroom, a youngster is tortured each twenty-five minutes. Indeed, even the Internet has transformed into an instrument of hostility through cyberbullying, which can happen whenever, day or night.

Regardless of whether it happens on the play area, in the classroom, or web based, cybering can turn out to be severe to the point that a few youngsters may abstain from going to class out of dread or humiliation. In the most outrageous cases, kids have even dedicated suicide to escape it.

Regardless of its seriousness, little is done to put a stop to it when it happens.

As per the National School Climate Center, eighty-five percent of the time there is no mediation from either other kids or grown-ups. Parents who comprehend harassing and the impact that it has on children can make progress to keep it from happening. One of the best ways to discourage cyberbullying could be both federal and state government to impose fines for violations committed by offenders. By punishing a large amount of fine for cyber bullies, this could have allowed them to think twice to do some inappropriate activities. Nowadays, cyber bullying is a big problem to our society, and it can impact future use of technology. Many states in the America started strict law against the cyber bullying that states such as Kansas, Nevada, Minnesota, Michigan and three more other states.

These states cyberbullying has been strictly controlled. But the problem is that every state needs to recommend a law saying cyber bullying should not be allowed anymore because it can really damage many people, especially youth. If the government plays a strong decision against the cyber bullying, it can be stopped.

For example. If the government taking control of the issue of cyber bullying, through fines, it will make offenders think twice before they do something.

Also, it will help discourage cyber bullying another solution to prevent the cyberbullying is that parents should be more active in monitoring their child's online performance. Many teenagers would be against if their parents involve their privacy, but this could be keep their online safety.

Though, parents should act and try to result the situation by encouraging communicate with their children regarding their internet use. Nowadays, many cases of suicidal have happened because of lacking in maturity and revenge. By cyber bullying, many people end up with depression and loneliness. As a result, they will commit suicide, so parents should aware of their children's online activities. In 2004, Mark Zuckerberg and his friend made a very popular website calling Facebook for connect a friends and co-workers. Ever since Facebook was made, more than five million people use it, even throughout the world, Facebook has become famous and being used in all over the world because this website was made to socialize and to reconnect with old friends, classmates, or co-workers and even family members.

However, some of the people turned to misuse this social network. To protect others from avoiding cyber bullying, there are buttons on other websites that should be suggested on Facebook. It is named a report an abuse button. In this way, if anyone is sensing someone cyber bullying, abusing thru network, this could help to suspend their accounts and maybe even be erase. This button should be use all other social network.

When using this button, it can help to erase unnecessary and inappropriate images and videos. every individual in his/her society has the right of their own freedom of expression. Though, cyber bullying should be restricted.

Cyber bullying should be taught in school, so that the students could get chance to understand the effects of cyber bullying. Also, in this way, they can be aware of the consequences. One of the other way to stop the cyber bullying is to block the bully.

If someone tries to harass through media such as coming in the form of messages, comments, fake videos, and photos, use privacy tools to block the bully. Also, if anyone feels someone bullies, do not try to respond with them, and talk about this incident with trusted adults such as parents, teachers. Open communication with parents can be helpful to overcome the problems associated with bullying, so be aware of being bullied. Although, some people think that deleting social networking is an easier way to prevent cyber bullying. Though, deleting social network places the bully that he or she has won and that they are given up. It will help the bully to make a fake profile and make-believe to be on it. Deleting networking sites can cause a sense of isolation from the world because all over the world is surrounded by internet and uses of technology. Without technology, no one can withstand in this modern world, so cyber bullying can't be completely resolved or removed from this world because day by day the world is developing by technology.

Therefore, parents and responsible persons should be aware of youngsters' online activities. Realizing that cyber bullying can cause much hazard in the wake of composing a couple of choices for a proposition, making a move is past the general population and their needs. On the off chance that requirement for to be sheltered, at that point people should take administration to the aftereffect of what may or can happen to his/her wellbeing.

in. Regardless of whether through reality tormenting or provocation and shame or digital harassing utilizing innovation, the administration, guardians, and educator or if notwithstanding significance to make a catch online to report somebody to help stop digital domineering jerks, at that point it ought to be finished. A ton of understudies can be extremely delicate and enthusiastic, because they are yet youthful and not very dependable yet.

At some specific indicates the parent may have overseen their child's conduct also. It is extremely about viewing your child and what they do, it is tied in with minding and having them to acknowledge to figure out how to end up noticeably the best or to some degree the best.
