

The the teachers of north coastal districts
of

The process of teaching learning transactions depend on the efficiency of a teacher who is in turn able to manifest potentialities of a child into actually, be accepted with no hesitation.

Teaching learning process cannot be undertaken in vacuum but it is a positively directed action, for which teachers to be endowed without anxiety as well as feeling of insecurity such other problems while functioning in his profession so as to enrich his quality of work life. The present investigation considering this fact, the researcher of the present study has opted to make a probe into the Primary and Secondary School Teachers suffering with Diabetes working in North Coastal Districts of Andhra Pradesh. 1.

1. Significance of the Study: Lot of research efforts have been directed on quality work of Teachers but unfortunately much attention of research is not drawn to correlate Anxiety, Insecurity Feeling and Quality of Work Life of teachers.

“ Rao, R. B. (1989) disclosed ‘ the quality or effectiveness of teacher is considered to be associated with his attitude towards his profession, his satisfaction with his values and adjustment in job and professional interest”.

“ Fontana, D.

(1986) observed that ‘ if the teacher is too rigid or has a doctrinaire belief of that his methods are right and those of any one who disagrees with him are wrong, then he will be depriving his children of a range of possible learning experiences, to their disadvantage and to his own”.

Similarly the Education Commission (1964-66) corroborates that “ of all the different factors which influence the quality of education and its contribution to national development, the competence and quality of work of teachers are undoubtedly the most significant". From this it is clear that an effective and competent teacher should possess quality work life and should enrich himself in quality teaching.

The present study is confined to make a probe into the quality of work of Diabetes Teachers of North Coastal Districts of Andhra Pradesh in relation to their Anxiety and Insecurity Feeling. It is observed that no significant efforts are undertaken to study the Teachers suffering with Diabetes in their quality of Work life in relation to Anxiety and Insecurity Feeling in North Coastal Districts of Andhra Pradesh. Hence, the research is undertaken to ascertain the significance of relationship between Quality of Work Life, Anxiety and Insecurity Feeling among the Teachers of North Coastal Districts of Andhra Pradesh.