Answer 2

It means to me that leadership initiatives are important factors that help inculcate strong sense of responsible behavior and rational approach. I should always try to rationalize the contentious issue and apply critical thinking to come to right decision. Knowledge become the single most important tool that empowers individuals and encourages one to understand the problem and resolve the issue through mutually. Moreover, I understood the importance of collaborative environment where teachers, administrators and students together make collective decisions for the welfare of the students as well as for the school. Most importantly, shared goals should also promote collective decision making. Hence formation of problem solving work group greatly facilitates consensus that resolves the issue amicably.

Answer 3
