

The administration for children and families

ASSIGN BUSTER

The Administration for Children and Families (AFC) is a federal funding state, and organization to provide family assistance such as welfare, child support, and child welfare. The service is provided by the state and county. The AFC help families try and build a strong, healthy, and supportive attitude towards life and the development of children. The AFC makes sure children are protected from abuse and neglect and those children are safety maintained In their home.

It is also important that children also maintain stability In their home; It shows them how to have an everyday schedule In their life. The AFC makes sure that they have the services to meet children's educational needs, physical needs, and mental health needs. The CAB targets children, youth, and families with sixty five programs and a budget of $588 support, children, youth and families, disabilities, and etc. I believe the CAB is very useful because it provides the well-being of families, children, and individuals. It provides the funds for a short term to make this possible.

Many families who do not have the sufficient amount of funds to provide their children with their needs find this organization very helpful. The organization will provide them with a certain amount of funds depending on their income for six months to a year depending on their situation. In 2011 many people benefited from CAB, more than $845 million were released in December 2011 by the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to states to help low-income households with their heating and home energy costs under the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LEAP).

The CAB released its annual report on December 21 on child abuse and neglect. " Child Maltreatment 2010" marks the 21 SST issuance of the report and shows a decline in the number of victims who suffered maltreatment for the fourth year. According to the report, an estimated 754, 000 children were victims of maltreatment in 2010. In the past years, rates of abuse and neglect are highest among infants and young children. I feel the CAB association is very useful in certain situations.
