Case Study on Educational Leadership:

Educational leadership is the complex of efforts taken to improve the quality of education and management of an educational institution. The necessity of the creation of a school leader appeared in the beginning of the 20th century which the development of science and human rights. The educational process had to be improved seriously and the position of an educational or school leader appeared. First of all the principle of a school was called a school leader, because it is natural that the principal managed the school, suggested school subjects and employed the appropriate teachers into the teaching staff. Unfortunately, it is not quite easy to manage a school for a single person.

In addition, a principle is not aware about the problems of the educational institution, the reforms and changes which have to be carried out. So, the term of educational leadership has broadened seriously and now it includes numerous school leaders which include active students, teachers and parents in the management of the educational process. Briefly, the principle takes decisions under the effect of the advice of the students, creative teachers and active parents who are often more aware about the real condition of the school, its problems and the weak sides of the educational process. In order to improve the condition of a school, teachers, parents and students are united into the special committees which discuss the problems of the school, the distribution of its finance and the curriculum. The educational leader is supposed to be the expert in administration and management, so the committees involve real professionals for the solution of the existing problems.
