

Texting while driving analysis persuasive essay

ASSIGN BUSTER

Testing while operating a motorized vehicle Purpose: The purpose of this essay to to show the dangers to you and others on the road while testing while driving. Audience: Teen Drivers Police Parents Any “ sensed driver Thesis: Unless the benefits of cell phones outweigh the risk of testing while driving, we should restrict the use of cell phones while operating a motor vehicle.

Preview: Testing and driving should be restricted because It Is distracting, it slows down your reaction time, and it can cause death.

Background: On an average evening in 2012, y friend was driving home from work. It was a Saturday night, so of course she wanted to know what all of her friends were doing and what their plans were for the night. Carelessly she was looking down at the phone reading a text, just about to text back when, boom, all of a sudden she was in the middle of an intersection collided with another car. My friend had ran right through a red light because she was too busy looking at her phone than to look at the traffic signal.

Outline: A)lento B) Dangers of testing and driving a. It can risk your own life. B.

It can risk another persons life.

C. The person is not fully paying attention to driving. D. It Is distracting. C) Reasons for testing and driving a.

Obsession with cell phone D) Ways to prevent testing and driving a. Planning directions ahead of time b. Turning off phone E) Counter Argument Some people do not think that cell phones should be restricted from being used

<https://assignbuster.com/texting-while-driving-analysis-persuasive-essay/>

while operating a vehicle because they do not feel that it is a distraction.

F)Conclusion Primary Questions: 1) What are the most serious offenders for texting and driving? America's youngest and most inexperienced drivers are most at risk. 6% of all distracted driving crashes involve drivers under the age of 20.

(Official US Government Website for Distracted Driving) 2)What is distracted driving? Distraction occurs any time that you take your eyes off of the road.

Any non-driving crashing. (Official US Government Website for Distracted Driving) 3. What is the percent of teen drivers that lost their lives texting and driving? For teens between the ages of 16-20 involved in fatal car accidents, 21% of these accidents were caused by texting while driving. (Official US Government Website for Distracted Driving) Secondary Questions: 1) Why do people text and drive?

Interview: " I used to text and drive because I thought that I was a good enough driver to concentrate on two things at once.

I never thought that I would get hurt by just simply taking my eyes off of the road for a few seconds. " (M. Humphreys) 2)Are there any companies taking a stand against texting and driving? AT came out with a campaign against texting and driving called " It can Wait". They are not only making Ad campaigns, they have also created an interactive exhibit that travels around high schools in the US. This exhibit shows of the distractions and the things that can easily happen while texting and driving.