

Shooting kabul: chapter 1

ASSIGN BUSTER

pull off succeed

Do you think she can pull off her plan? getaway a rapid escape swerved turn suddenly to avoid hitting something pockmarked having holes or pits screened turned over on its side peering looking closely parched dried up sprawling Spread out over a wide area crumbling falling into small pieces bypassed Go past or around. shuttered closed lurching a sudden, jerky movement desolate lonely, without inhabitants junction the place where two or more things come together bustling full of activity; busy haggling to argue about a price or agreement quavering shaking propelled pushed forward drab lacking brightness or color frail physically weak meager small in amount scuffed scraped or scratched through use grim serious; unpleasant and depressing gloomy sad, depressed vellum fine paper prepared from the skin of a young animal e. g. a calf or lamb eerie weird; mysterious; strange and frightening muffled made softer or less loud sliver a small, thin piece squealed made a high, thin cry or sound ailing sick resigned showing hopelessness grimacing making a face that shows pain or disgust prodded poked impertinence rudeness apprehension anxiety or fear about the future suppressing to hold back mandatory required, obligatory ventured Dared to come or go oppression keeping others down by the unjust use of power endearing lovable especially in a childlike or naive way dread be afraid or scared of coaxed tried to persuade mother conceal or hide morose Gloomy

ONSHOOTING KABUL: CHAPTER 1 SPECIFICALLY FOR YOU FOR ONLY $13.90/PAGE Order Now