

Summary of going to home , he goes

ASSIGN BUSTER

Summary Holden is was kicked from the boarding school a few days before Christmas because of his bad grades.

Instead of going to home , he goes to Spencer, who is history teacher at school. But he does not feel comfortable at Spencer's house and then he goes to dormitory. After he went, he discusses with his friends and he runs away from there. Holden continues to walk around the streets of New York with alcohol. He finds a hotel and a prostitute to spend the night .

He wakes up and calls Sally Hayes whom he has dated, nothing's going right and he leaves from the hotel. he goes to see his sister, Phoebe. His family is not at home. Her sister gives her the money to him and Holden leaves again at home. Holden calls his English teacher and goes to his teacher's home. After that, Holden leaves from there. Holden goes to sister's school and leaves a message about he is leaving home and Phoebe must go and meet Holden at the museum. Phoebe is planning to go with him.

But Holden will not accept it and he will have a nice day with his sister and then Holden changes his mind and he will not leave his home..

Point Of View Salinger used the first person who gives Holden's true thoughts and emotions. Holden uses abusive words and slang to express his views. With these techniques story of Holden become more realistic. Holden makes his criticism honestly and ruthless against the society.

He made criticism about everything from sexual preference to religions. Writing Style Salinger used the first person who gives Holden's true thoughts and emotions. Holden uses abusive words and slang to express his views. With these techniques the story of Holden becomes more realistic.

Holden makes his criticism honest and ruthless against the society. He made criticism about everything from sexual preference to religions.

Setting The events were happened at the end of the 1940s and the beginning of the 1950s in New York City.

The book was also written during this period. Holden's brother Allie's death date is July 18, 1946 when Holden was thirteen years old. The events in the book were passed on December 1949.

If it is thought that Christmas (Christmas) coincides with the Sunday ; It is estimated that the two days covering a large part of the book are December 18 and December 19. Also , if we look at the places that Holden visits , we can see the process of Holden's growth and his childish sides.