I hate the winter weather today. I am shivering even with a jacket on. It's been like this every winter weather. Humidity is brutal. The air is that dense. The winter air is very threatening to the human body.

My skin will get dry and and I will die if I stay here any longer. I want to go outside but I can't. Winter time is like a snowman I've been touching for a long time. Winter is moving so fast in time spring comes along. Winter weather is comforting when your in bed. Winter weather results in snow in your yard.

When later you need to rake it up. Winter can get worser than you can imagine sometimes. A blist of winter wind brrr.
