

P.o.w.e.r. learning book flash cards

ASSIGN BUSTER

Academic Honesty Completing and turning in only ones own work under ones own name. Acronym A word formed from the first letter of each word in a series ONP. O. W. E. R. LEARNING BOOK FLASH CARDS SPECIFICALLY FOR YOU FOR ONLY $13.90/PAGE Order Now Active Listening The voluntary act of focusing on what is being said, making sense of it, and thinking about it in ways that permits it to be recalled accurately Analogy A comparison between concepts or objects that are alike in some respects, but dissimilar in most others Blended or hybrid courses Classes are a combination of traditional face-to-face classroom interaction and a significant amount of online learning. Blog A web-based public diary in which a writer provides commentary, ideas, thoughts, and short essays. Browser A program that provides a way of navigating around the information on the web Budget A formal plan that accounts for expenditures and income Call number A unique classification number assigned to every book or resource in a library. Call numbers are used for ease of location Career Portfolio A dynamic record that documents your skills, capabilities, achievements, and goals, as well as provides a place to keep notes, ideas, and research findings related to careers. Coping The effort to control, reduce, or learn to tolerate the threats that lead to stress Cramming Hurried, last minute studying Cultural competence Knowledge and understanding about other races, ethnic groups, cultures, and minority groups. Culture The learned behaviors, beliefs, and attitudes that are characteristic of an individual society or population, and the products that people create. Daily to-do list a schedule showing the tasks, activities, and appointments due to occur during the day. Decision making The process of deciding among various alternatives. Educated Guessing The practice of eliminating obviously false multiple-choice answers and selecting the most likely answer from the remaining choices. Flash cards

Index cards that contain KEY pieces of information to be remembered.
HearingThe involuntary act of sensing soundMnemonicsFormal techniques used to make material more readily rememberedOverlearningStudying and rehearsing material past the point of initial mastery to the point at which recall becomes automaticRehearsalThe process of practicing and learning materialVisualizationA memory technique by which images are formed to help recall material. AcrosticA sentence in which the first letters of the words correspond to material that is to be remembered. Advance OrganizersOutlines, overviews, objectives and other clues to the meaning and organization of new material in what you are reading, which pave the way for subsequent learningAttention SpanThe length of time that attention is typically sustainedFrontmatterThe preface, introduction, and table of contents of a book. Learning DisabilitiesDifficulties in the acquisition and use of listening, speaking, reading, writing, reasoning, or mathematical abilities.