It is a great time to get a new TV with baseball, football and basketball all overlapping over the new few months. This Vizio comes in at less than $700 for a 60" and includes a bonus $250 Dell gift card which you can use toward computers, electronics and more. You can even get the newest console and just pay the difference. Most of us don't need 4K or HDR as the technology is still fairly new and not fully supported unless you play games on the Xbox One S or PS4 or are willing to pay extra on your Netflix bill. This Vizio is a tremendous value and after the gift card you effectively pay only $400 for the TV.

Of course if you do need a big-screen TV with 4K and HDR, then consider the for $999.99. This is a great TV with strong Amazon rating and IGN recommended it as a low entry price to the world of 4K and HDR.

Use code: TECHBAR10. If you are in need of a tablet, the Amazon Fire HD6 is on clearance for only $50. Although it is refurbished, it is Amazon certified to look like a new tablet and work the same. They back this up with a nice one-year warranty -- same as a new model. A $50 tablet can replace a lot of devices: a digital photo frame, a tablet you can pick up and use when you do a DIY project or cook in the kitchen, or give it to your kids instead of draining or even breaking your phone.

Use code: BONUS100. This is the lowest price we've seen and a PCMag's Editor's Choice for a premium detachable hybrid tablet. It weighs in at only 3.67 pounds and can be used either as a tablet or dock into a keyboard base to do some real typing. It has a 10-hour battery life making it perfect for all-day meetings or travel. As a business class laptop it includes a better than normal 3-year warranty with in-home or on-site service. If you were waiting to get a PlayStation 4 then this is one of the best deals we've found. Not only can you play games, you can stream Netflix and watch Blu-rays. PlayStation just released an update that lets you play games in HDR just like the Xbox One S. With a " slim" version coming out this is a great deal to get a PlayStation 4, especially if you have no interest in VR. With the bonus $50 gift card you can easily buy upcoming games, a second controller, or anything else that Dell sells.
