

Computer marked assignment

ASSIGN
BUSTER

When the test opens, a link to it will appear under the ‘Resources’ heading on the left-hand side of the front page of the course website. The questions are presented in a variety of formats. You will be asked to complete paragraphs of text by ‘dragging and dropping’ words and phrases into place, to answer questions about diagrams from a course text and read data from a table, to select correct answers from a drop down list, as well as answering more familiar ultimate choice and short-answer ‘Tree text’ questions.

The ‘CAM’ is scored out of a total of 37 and counts for 5% of your overall continuous assessment score. The low weighting of the test reflects the fact that it has been designed primarily as a revision exercise, an opportunity to go back through the course and look at topics you may not have thought about for a while, or which you perhaps thought about in less detail on your first reading of the course materials. We really hope that you will take the time to work through the ECMA, and that you find it a useful jumping off point for your revision as you begin thinking about the fall exam.

So that you can get a feel for the ‘CAM’ format before you complete it, we’ve prepared a shorter, simpler quiz as a practice. The quiz comprises 5 simple true/false questions about exam technique, which we hope will also help give you a useful start to your revision. Unlike the real ECMA, this practice version will give you instant feedback on your answers and you can complete it as many times as you like. You can access the practice ECMA via the following link: <http://learn.pen.ac.uk/mod/zulu/> These details have also been posted as a separate document in the ‘Assessment Resources’ section of the website. Computer Marked Assignment By snowmen 1 As you’re no doubt aware, the ECMA will be open for completion between 20th April and 12th

<https://assignbuster.com/computer-marked-assignment/>

May. The ECMA is an online test comprising 16 questions which cover all the chapters of the course books. You can consult your books to complete the 'CAM and it you like before you submit your final answers or the ECMA closes.

The questions you ND their answers appear will be shuffled, so no two versions of the ECMA will look paragraphs of text by 'dragging and dropping words and phrases into place, to multiple choice and short-answer free text' questions. The 'CAM is scored out of a total of 37 and counts for 5% of your overall continuous assessment score. The low weighting of the test reflects the fact that it has been perhaps thought about in less detail on your first reading of the course materials.

We really hope that you will take the time to work through the ECMA, and that you find it a useful Jumping off point for your revision as you begin thinking about the final exam. So that you can get a feel for the ECMA format before you complete it, we've prepared to your revision. Unlike the real ECMA, this practice version will give you instant feedback on your answers and you can complete it as many times as you like.