

Misuse of modern technology

Misuse of Technology Introduction: Technology In our days is linked to practically everything we do India has changed people's lives in various ways. We use it at work such as the Internet and computers, we use it for personal matters entertainment such as mobile phones. But everyone should know how to benefit from technology and not misuse it during our daily lives.

Discussion: The big problem about technology misuses can be summarized in two areas: culture and education.

Some people aren't sufficiently cultured to use technology properly as a tool because they use it as a status symbol or as a fashionable trend. Also, these people do not have the habit of using it correctly. Because of the many services that technology offers, there are many ways to harm persons and waste time. People use their time to harass others even though they know that it is not good. For example, people use technology to destroy others instead of improving themselves. People are actually concerned about the misuse and abuse of technology. Statistics show that internet uses lead to intimidation or threat to people as well as allowing easy piracy by providing the infrastructure for illegalities or software downloads and plagiarism.

Educational institutions are worried about students' development in their classes due to the misuse of technology. For instance, learners are using cell phones, playing games, and surfing on some pornographic web sites and other non-suitable activities in class.

Some students even start using cell phones at the age of ten. This isn't a bad thing because many parents are both working and have to tolerate their children with a babysitter, so they need a way to communicate with their children. Nowadays, children not only want to have cell phones, but also prefer to have the latest version of it. If children do not have it, they might feel ashamed with their friends and prefer to leave their old-fashioned cellophane at home.

Moreover, many late model cellophanes built-in camera and some people use it to record pictures or bloodstains may damage others reputation.

Because of these, some people say and think that the technology is responsible and it is not good for society. However, people have to understand that this is happening because of technology misuse. As a tool, technology does not do anything to threaten society, it is the misuse of it that threatens society. It is humans that use a technology that threatens society, the fault is at the user of technology, not the technology itself.

Conclusion: This paper should not be read as a blanket condemnation of lethargic developments, but a plea for technology in its place. That place is for environmental rather than individual modification interrelation. Indeed technology has proved ineffective and inefficient modifying individuals and there is little evidence for great putrescence's. The 'Six Million Dollar' Man and the 'Bionic Woman', are noticeable fiction based on projected facts but modern day fairy tales.