

Academic degree

ASSIGN BUSTER

Barrel, Darrell Normal[(#)]Com, Source: Papal: The Journal for Decision Makers. July-Suppose, Volvo. 31 Issue 3, pap-1 7. Up. Authors: Glommed, Erin, Source: Businesslike-com. 5/2/2014, pa; 6. 1 p. Authors: MOTOS, Frederica, Source: Journal of HigherEducationPolicy & Management. Decided, Volvo. 35 Issue 6, IPPP-638. APP. Q #2: Plagiarism Is a major challenge In many qualityacademicInstitutions. Review the literature on plagiarism including the plagiarism web site. How do you plan to ensure the originality of your work within this program?

Provide specific steps that will guide you to writing with integrity at the scholarly level. Make sure you properly cite the sources used. Also, for future reference, research sources at the radiate level need to be research Journal articles. Generic web sites such as all like Wisped. Avoid the use of such sources in any graduate level work unless directed by the course/professor like in the case of the plagiarism web site. In today's era of education, plagiarism is a global issue; each academic institution is facing heavy issue.

Plagiarism is derived from the Latin word "predatory", which means kidnapping or theft. "Plagiarism, broadly defined, encompasses presenting other people's ideas as your own without clearly giving them credit". This is only to vomit or pretending to be someone else's work, thoughts, expressions and information as it is your own. Do not give appropriate recognition. The most common types of plagiarism mentioned are as follow;

1. Passing someone else's work as if it is your own
2. Copy information from unreliable source
3. Using incorrect paraphrasing
- 4.

Improper references 5. Copying from your own material Scholars can ensure the originality of their work by avoiding the above five points. A lot of research and evidence has shown that students' cheating is one of the biggest academic problems nowadays. In recent years, the issue developed by large data in the online sources, by depending on the same rather than critical thinking and analysis of the conclusion of the subject matter, and relies on unreliable online resources, it is the wrong way, and it is called plagiarism.

Plagiarism has become a serious topic, discussed in this era of higher education. It is an academic dishonesty which is composed of many students who are unaware of academic ethics. By schools, colleges and university students completed the serious problem of plagiarism, students do plagiarism because lack of time, confidence and stress. Plagiarism may occur accidental or intentionally. Whether plagiarism is how it happened, it is illegal and not acceptable at any university.

This is the reputation of the university, if the student submission is plagiarism, which is not acceptable, the university has to punish those students. The other hand, the basic objective is to establish education students create and analyze opinions and generate their own ideas, by repeating old ideas without new ideas, the educational objectives will not be met. [Http://support. Obscenest. Com/knowledge_base/detail. PH? Id= 6320](http://support. Obscenest. Com/knowledge_base/detail. PH? Id= 6320)