States with growing populations gain seats and states with shrinking populations lose seats. What relationship exists between the census and the distribution of seats among the states in the house of representatives? Representatives elected by people; Smaller constituencies (districts) that represent people rather than state What evidence suggests that the House of Representatives was intended to reflect the interests of the people, rather than the states? fear of taxation; House better represents people Why did the founding fathers <https://assignbuster.com/ap-gov-the-house-of-representatives-and-senate-worksheet/> require all revenue bills to originate in the House of Representatives? House based on population (large states) and senate has equal representation (small states)How does the chart reflect the compromise between large and small states? people voted for senators rather than legislatorsHow did the seventeenth amendment create a more democratic senate? districts of about 500000
