

Othello act 4, scene 2

ASSIGN BUSTER

Othello Extremely angry at Desdemona. Completely convinced she has cheated on him with Cassio. Desdemona Has no idea why Othello is angry with her. She is still the obedient wife. Emilia She makes statements that there must be some kind of villain in their midst. She does not suspect Iago, but she finds it curious that the changes are occurring in Othello and good men like Cassio are no longer in good graces. Iago Continues to lie. Roderigo Has used up all his money and approaches Iago, demanding that Iago help him get Desdemona. Iago and Desdemona Iago tells Desdemona that Othello is merely preoccupied with politics. This is the reason for his "foul" mood. Iago and Roderigo Iago talks Roderigo into killing Cassio. If Cassio is gone, Desdemona will certainly be Roderigo's. Roderigo must stab Cassio. The Lies All the lies remain "hidden" from the characters in the play. All of them still believe that Iago is a good, honest man.
