

My nephew graduation

Education, School

MY NEPHEW GRADUATION In this assignment, I will be discussing my nephew, Vekarious Barnes, graduation from Florida State University (FSU). My nephew is a very intelligent young man, that has overcome obstacles of health, and stability. As a child he has always had a passion to help others, although he himself was suffering some unforeseen health issues, he had such a stamina and perseverance that we had never seen nor witnessed he is truly deserving of this degree due to his endurance. He has always had a liking to science. When he was in the middle school he did numerous science projects and he would win first place as he progressed to high school he was in a program offered at Lincoln High called the CARE program this is where he developed a strong like for chemistry. Although, when he first went to FSU he wasn't sure of what he wanted to do. He knew that he wanted to be in the science field, but he didn't know what branch of science, whether it was chemistry, biology, anatomy, etc. Finally in his junior year his mind was made up and he pursued his degree in Chemistry. On April 29, 2011, my nephew who's name is Vekarious Barnes, graduated from FSU, with a BS in Chemistry and a minor in Physics and Mathematics. This was a highly anticipated event that the whole family was looking forward to. He had been a student there for four years and had changed his major many times. He finally made up his mind and now he has completed this part of his life. The graduation itself was a total of three hours. It included some very special comments, and musical selections. This was a very memorable occasion because he is the first person in our second generation of family history to graduate. He now has hopes of continuing his education by attending grad school at FSU. We celebrated his graduation with a party at TGI Fridays in Tallahassee, Florida. We had a certain part of the restaurant blocked off and we decorated it so festively with balloons, graffiti, and FSU memorabilia. There was music playing and enjoyable fellowship. We ordered food off of the menu and enjoyed festivities that included card playing, slow dance, and wine. We wanted this celebration to be one that he would never forget. As a result of his hard work and dedication he is now ready to venture out into the world. Equipped with not only the necessities of life but also the education that he deemed necessary to project him into an arena of living that would be fitting and comfortable for him.