My interest in taking my major in criminal justice program at Montclair state University keeps on mounting everyday.

My life goal is to become a senior cop and this can only be attained through taking a degree in criminal justice. My passion for this field was developed since childhood; I used to admire my father's sportive figure and attractive uniform since he was a cop. As I grew up I realized that there are other important issues that my father and the other cops had to accomplish to maintain law and order as well as ensuring that justice prevails. Later in I could not with stand seeing how criminals were mistreated without even being given sometime to defend themselves. Simply put, no democracy was exercised by the criminals. I therefore decided to pursue this program that will see me one day as in senior position in the criminal justice system.
