Artists Think Every individual in this world had his own capability to express things and feelings. Some can express these feelings easily while some face difficulties in expressing them. These feelings can either be expressed in terms of words, pictures or gestures. Artists have a way of expression different than normal people. These artists draw and sketch things to express themselves. Many of the paintings of the artists show as to how they think about certain aspects of life. Artists have their own unique way of expressing themselves through drawings. A question here arises as to why can't the artists speak rather than sketching their feelings into a picture. An answer to this question is that some feelings cannot be expressed in words but rather can be expressed by sketching. These feelings can only be understood better by looking at the picture. Artists have a unique way of drawing these pictures to tell how they feel about these issues. They work on their drawing so that the audience can feel the theme of the drawing. Artists feel that a sketch can appeal more to an audience rather than simple words. It can be said that truly artists are able to express their feelings and emotions through a drawing. The pictures speak more than the words according to the artists as these pictures can present a whole picture of the event. The artists work on their drawings to give the audience a better picture of the whole event. It can be clearly said that these artists are able to express better in pictures than in speaking.
