We all love different for different reasons. While some are just plain essential for different occasions, others are optional. In the list Of optional Items, we all have some " MUST have" items when engaging in various activities. For instance, while going for a trip, we all Carry other items besides just the very essential Items like clothes. However, If there is one thing that I do not miss to pack when going on trips then It has to be my camera due to different reasons.

I am a very nostalgic person and I also love nature so when going out on a trip. I need something that helps capture the moment so that I can look back someday and remember that time. Most of the times, I ensure that I am not the one driving so that I can take photos and short videos about the trip. I take photos and videos about anything as long as I find it fascinating.

My camera can also help me make some money out of my fun activity. I usually capture excellent photos that I usually share With my friends. After some months of posting photos about my trips, someone approached me wanting to buy the rights to some of my photos, which I agreed. I realized that I could make some money out of it and since then, I have sold many photos to other people. I want to start blogging so that I can make even more money.

I know most people find their Smartphone to be enough but my camera is my baby and I would never leave it behind because it helps me keep those precious moments in life. I cannot imagine going through life without a story to tell or even proof that you were actually there. A picture tells a thousand words and with all the photos I have, I must take more because my photos tell my story.
