In this new era of science and technology, we have incorporated technology into our everyday lives. In fact, we cannot live without electrical appliances that we call necessities and the television is one of them. Much has changed since the first television was invented – from black and white to colour televisions. For some, the television is a window to the modern world. By viewing the programmes that are aired on television, we can gain a lot of information and knowledge. Programmes like the National Geographic and Discovery can be used as an educational tool in schools and at home to teach our younger generation to love and protect our world.

Besides that, television programmes can transport us around the world. We do not even have to leave that comfortable couch at home. After a hard day's work, most of us would be too exhausted to indulge in recreational activities. Television programmes can bring pleasure and fun into a viewer's boring life of all work and no play. We can also release our stress and pressure by watching television programmes such as cartoons and comedies. The television is also an advertising tool. Many of us come to know of new products that are in the market by watching television. Nevertheless, we must be wise when choosing a television programme.

Some programmes that are aired may be unsuitable for general viewing as they may contain too much violence and bloodshed. Children who are under eighteen might be misled by these programme as they are easily influenced at this tender age. Many crimes that are committed by juveniles are believed to be caused by their excessive viewing of violent movies. Teenagers could get addicted to television viewing once they start using the television to play video games. As the result of that, they might neglect their studies and soon might be knocking on failure's door.

Any couch potato can tell you that their eyes hurt after viewing television programmes for more than two hours. In the long run, we might become visually impaired if we do not control our television viewing. Advertisements that contain false information can be disastrous as we viewers might be induced and persuaded to buy useless garbage which advertisers shamelessly proclaim as gadgets. Television viewing has its advantages and disadvantages. We have the right to choose what to watch and nobody is to blame if we pick the wrong programme.

Advantages And Disadvantages Of Watching Television I HAVE A DREAM By: Martin Luther king I am happy to join with you today in what will go down in history as the greatest demonstration for our nation. Five score years ago a great American, in whose symbolic shadow we stand today, signed the Emancipation Proclamation. This was great hope to millions of Negro slaves, who had been suffering from injustice. But one year later, the Negro still is not free, is sadly crippled by the chains of segregation and discrimination – As so we have come here today to dramatize a shameful condition. When the architects of our republic wrote the magnificent words of the constituent and they were signing a promissory note which that all men – Black men as well as white men – would be guaranteed the unalienable rights of life, liberty and happiness. Instead of honoring this sacred obligation America has given the Negro people a bad cheek. We have come to remind America that this is the time to make real the promises of democracy and to the sunlit path of racial justice and to make justice a reality for all of God's children – There will be <https://assignbuster.com/advantage-and-disadvantages-of-television-essay/> neither rest nor tranquility in America until the Negro is granted his citizenship rights and the whirl winds of revolt will continue to shake the foundations of our nation until the bright day of justice emerges let us not seek to satisfy our thirst for freedom by drinking from the cup of bitterness and hatred.

We must forever conduct our struggle on the high plane of dignity and discipline. We must not allow our creative protest to degenerate into physical violence for many of our white brothers have come to realize that their destiny is tied up with our destiny – we cannot walk alone; As we walk we must make the pledge that we shall always march ahead we cannot turn back – We are not satisfied and we will not be satisfied until justice rolls down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream. I say to you today, my friends so even though we face the difficulties...
