Answers T- Shirt manufacturing process fall under the textile industry, this process occurs in three stages; primary, secondary and tertiary levels. In the primary level, since my shirt is 100 percent cotton, the first process is spinning cotton to form yarn. Cotton is the raw material in this process and is obtained from India. Secondary level; yarn from the second stage is weaved to produce cloth; this process takes place in textile industries based in India. Final step is turning the cloth into the finished result which in this case is a t-shirt. I purchased the t-shirt from a Wal-Mart store; they import cloth from industries in Bangladesh. My t-shirt can only be obtained from a Wal-Mart store since it is a crew t-shirt that forms a part of their brand. It cannot be found in any other store (Walmart. com).

2. Tortured and raped by Israel, Persecuted and jailed by the U. S is an article from truth-out. org written by Dahr Jamail. It circles around a Palestinian woman; Ramea Odeh aged 67 years who was imprisoned after the court found her guilty of immigration fraud. It depicts the west as superior to the Middle East because Odeh was charged in the States due to activities that she is alleged to have committed in Israel back in 1967. Superiority of the west is noted in the ability of the United States' judicial system that claims to have acquired enough evidence to tie her to those allegations. Association between Israel and the United States in continuing their oppression of Palestine is shown in this article. It is where orientalism comes in, Palestine is considered dangerous and a threat to Israel who is allies with the United States. United States is acting to safeguard Israel's dark secrets; this is shown by the court's failure to take into account all that happened to Odeh while she was held in Israel (Jamail).
