

World geography

ASSIGN BUSTER

World Geography Many think geography is boring; only an assortment of charts, maps, and dry information to learn. But is it really so? I will tell them Geography is an important subject to learn and learning can be fun too.

Kids of today will have to face lots of competitions not only on home ground but on strange soil too. Better to be savvy about the culture, history, custom and people of other lands of the world. The knowledge of Geography will make us smarter and more confident. To enhance the interest and curiosity of the students here are a few interesting variety of websites that I have picked from the Internet. Here is the list.
