Violence in School Case Study:

Violence in school is the offensive behaviour of the certain students towards the other ones. Violence in school is the common problem in every school all over the world. Children are the same everywhere and their offensive behaviour frequently depends on the social status, wealth of the family and the country. Nearly in every class there are several students who suffer from the offensive physical and psychological attacks of other students. The targets of violence are generally different from other students and young people are known to treat everything different in the negative way.

The common students who suffer from attacks are the ones who suffer from obesity, have the different colour of skin, origin, style, world view, who likes another genre of music, etc. The methods of violence are quite different. The common ways are the verbal attacks which are aimed to affect the student's emotions and hurt the self-esteem and consciousness. Of course, many students also suffer from the physical abuse when they are hit by the classmates. The result of violence in school is always tragic. On the one hand it prepares students to the cruelty and competition of the grownup life, but on the other hand the physical and psychological abuse ruins the student's personality and his ability to live in the society in the appropriate way.

Such students have poor-self-esteem and self-consciousness, they are too shy and never compete for the better workplace and as a result they are deprived from the chance to reach the success in life. Violence in school is a serious psychological problem which affects the human life negatively and very often ruins the future perspectives of the young person. Violence in
